THE INDIAN ECONOMIST AND
STATISTICAL REPORTER.
A MONTHLY JOURNAL DEVOTED TO ECONOMIC AND STATISTICAL INQUIRIES CONCERNING INDIA.
Edited by ROBERT KNIGHT (Times of India), FELLOW OF THE STATISTICAL SOCIETY, London.
Subscription, 25 Rs. a year in advance; 30 Rs. in arrears.

Intending Subscribers will be good enough to send their names direct to Mr. KNIGHT, Bombay.

MR. KNIGHT'S retirement from the Daily Press of India will set him free on the 1st July next to establish a journal devoted exclusively to those economic and statistical inquiries which have been pursued by him for many years past in the columns of the Times of India. The Indian Economist will at the outset be published on the 1st of every month, and will be devoted almost exclusively to the discussion of economic questions concerning India.
The Statistical Reporter, which will appear as a supplement to each number, with separate paging and index, will gather together such statistics as exist or are to be gathered concerning the agriculture and resources of the provinces, and the commerce, population, revenues, debt, and public works of the empire, and will present them in the simplest and most useful form for the Editor's use.

It is hoped that the publication of this journal will give a new impetus to statistical inquiries in India, and be the means of spreading exact information upon questions on which Indian publicists and statesmen are now constantly at fault from the want of it. The most manifest defect probably in our administrative system is the fact that there is not a statistic in the empire the exact position and resources of which are known to us. The very first condition of successful administration is this wanting.
In Orissa the other day, a narrow export of 30,000 Tons of rice from a province containing 3,000,000 of people growing nothing but rice, was held to be conclusive proof that large food reserves existed in the province, while a very brief statistical inquiry would have shown that so narrow an export in face of the high price that had been ruling for years, proved that the province was normally treading on the verge of famine.

There are no satisfactory statistics at present in India upon any subject but its trade, while such as do exist are buried in the recesses of the Secretariat, or in the Appendices to Parliamentary Returns, out of reach of the public. Long familiarity with the kind of information wanted, the sources from which it is to be obtained, and the shape in which it requires to be presented, furnish the Editor, as he himself believes, with special qualifications for the task he has undertaken. He proposes to meet a want which he has felt keenly himself, and believes that his new journal will be found to be indispensable by every merchant, journalist, and civilian in the country with a very few months of its publication.

In the Times of India he has dealt for many years imperfectly with the great questions to which the Indian Economist will now be specially devoted. Imperial and local taxation, the Indian debt, currency reforms, weights and measures, the land settlements of the country, our financial relations with England, railway extension and public works, banking, commerce, and exchange, and the course of the Legislature and of the Executive Government thereon will form the leading subjects of discussion in the new Journal. The Editor trusts he may rely upon the co-operation of the Services to make his new journal what he proposes it should become. He does not intend it to be a mere newspaper, but an authority upon questions affecting the material well-being of the country; and he will gladly receive suggestions for the improvement of his plans, and offers of assistance in the execution of them from any part of India. He will be glad also to know early the number of subscribers to the journal, upon which he may count at the outset. The journal will probably become a weekly paper eventually.

THE ANGLO-CHINESE CALENDAR MANUAL.
A Handbook of reference for the determination of Chinese Dates, during the period from 1860 to 1869, with comparative Tables of Annual and Mensural Designations, &c., &c. Compiled by WILLIAM FREDER-ICK MAYERS, H.M.C.S.

Author's Preface.
Most persons whose avocations or studies are connected even remotely with Chinese subjects are wont to confess the need of a convenient manual of reference for the purpose of determining dates according to either the European or the Chinese method of computation; and a system of comparison for the names attributed to years, months, and other periods is also frequently a desideratum with translators and readers of Chinese literature. The compiler of the following tables has thought, accordingly, that their publication in a convenient form may prove useful, although much yet remains to be done for the elaboration of comparative calendars, etc., that should leave nothing to be desired. With the exception of the Cyclical Table of Years, and the Table of Solar Terms, both of which were originally compiled by Dr.
Morrison, and afterwards republished with improvements in Williams' Commercial Guide, from which (with some alteration) they are now copied, the whole of the matter assembled in the following pages is for the first time made accessible to general reference.
